Local Chevrolet Salesman Wins Impala Convertible

Dick Magee, new car salesman for Paul's Chevrolet in Torrance, last week was awarded a 1958 Impala convertible as first prize in the Chevrolet Los Angeles zone "Drive Home A Winner" Contest.

The contest, held in each of Chevrolet's 47 national zones, was open to all Chevrolet salesmen who sold one or more new station wagons or convertibles between March 21 and May 20.

Each eligible sales was asked to estimate the national total of Chevrolet station wagons and convertibles that would be sold during the two-month contest period. Each additional sale during the period entitled the entrant to additional estimates.

Magee missed the national total of more than 46,000 new station wagons and convertible sales by only two cars.

The now convertible was presented by R. M. O'Connor, Los Angeles zone manager for Chevrolet, and M. A. Young, city manager for the Southern section.

A WINNING SMILE... It's easy for Dick Magee of Paul's Chevrolet to smile as he is presented with a 1958 Chevrolet Impala convertible—first prize in Chevrolet's "Drive Home a Winner" contest. Making the presentation is R. M. O'Connor, Chevrolet zone manager (right), and smiling approval are Paul Loranger, owner of the Torrance firm; Ted Green, general manager of the agency, and M. A. Young, Chevrolet city manager (south).
